

Conyers Middle School Named TAG and TAG-Ed STEM Education Awards Finalist!

Conyers Middle School is pleased to announce that Conyers Middle School, home of the Center for Technology and Engineering of which the Aerospace Engineering Specialty Program is an integral part, has been chosen as a finalist for the Middle School Category at the 2017 STEM Education Awards sponsored by the Technology Association of Georgia and TAG Education Collaborative.

The TAG and TAG-Ed STEM Education Awards is the premier STEM recognition event in the state, and it has recognized the state's top STEM educators, schools, companies, and programs for six consecutive years.

Anterro Graham, the Director of the CMS Center for Technology and Engineering and a Conyers Middle School Assistant Principal, stated "this is a tremendous achievement for Conyers Middle School, the CMS Center for Technology and Engineering and the CMS Aerospace Engineering Specialty Program as it recognizes Conyers Middle School's support for STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) in Georgia".

The STEM Education Awards will be held November 3rd at the Loudermilk Center in downtown Atlanta where the winner of each category will be announced.
